

END USER LICENCE AGREEMENT

The EULA shall specify terms and conditions that are no less restrictive than the following:

- i. The Publications contained in this order are for the end-user's internal business use.
- ii. The Licensee's end-users are permitted to print a single copy of the Publication.
- iii. The Licensee and the end-user may not remove any proprietary markings or electronic watermarks, including IEC copyrights and trademarks.
- iv. The end-user shall not copy transfer, sell, license, lease, give, download, modify, publish, assign, transmit or otherwise reproduce, disclose or make available to others or create derivative works from the Publications or any portion thereof.
